GENERATION NEXT FORUM
14TH – 16TH MARCH 2007
TOWNSVILLE

Generation Next's vision
for the future of the sugar industry is a positive, collaborative and innovative industry ensuring a prosperous future.

Are you enthusiastic about making a positive difference in the Australian sugar industry?

Do you want to meet and network with people who have the potential to make a long term contribution to industry from all sectors (farming, milling, research, extension, harvest, marketing and agribusiness)?

Would you like to help give younger people a 'voice'?

Would you like to be part of an energetic forum where enthusiastic and innovative people work together on projects that will deliver benefits to the industry?

THEN THE GENERATION NEXT FORUM IS FOR YOU!

2007 FORUM DETAILS:

Where: Townsville

When: 14th – 16th March 2007

Venue: Southbank Hotel & Convention Centre
17- 29 Palmer Street, South Townsville

THE FORUM WILL PROVIDE OPPORTUNITIES TO:

- Learn about what the future holds for the sugar industry.
- Develop skills to profile and position yourself to be more effective.
- Form partnerships with existing and future industry leaders.

OUTCOMES FROM THE 2006 GENERATION NEXT FORUM:

- The formation of a Generation Next movement.
- Heightened industry profile of young industry members through the production of monthly media releases.
- Increased awareness of the sugar industry as a result of delegates getting involved in their local schools.
- Grants accessed to trial new ideas e.g. rotation, sharing information across regions, conducting educational forums.
- The formation of a Generation Next group in Mossman to provide an ongoing forum for support, information and training.
- Increased awareness of technical approaches and research projects.
